WELCOME

We are so glad you are here!

Did you know that the word Yoothamurra is an Indigenous word meaning "great fortune"?

From the very beginning, this name carries a heartfelt wish for every couple who celebrates their special day here.

It symbolizes the joy, love, and blessings we hope will accompany you as you embark on your journey together.

What a meaningful and beautiful way to start your forever!

YOOTHAMURRA

Yoothamurra, located in Oakford, WA — just 35 minutes from Perth CBD — is a truly unique venue with rich history. Originally operated as a full-time dairy cattle farm by the Kargotich family, it began hosting weddings in 2017 and has since become a sought-after destination. This stunning property offers exclusive access to the homestead, providing a convenient and private space for you to prepare on the morning of your big day. The venue's established gardens are nothing short of dreamy, offering endless photo opportunities, including the iconic "tree tunnel" at the end of the driveway.

With multiple ceremony locations to choose from and a 20x10 marquee featuring a full fairy light roof nestled among the trees for your reception, Yoothamurra creates a magical atmosphere for your celebration. Hosting up to 150 guests, this venue offers an unforgettable setting for your special day.

A past Couples LOVE NOTE

Yoothamurra is definitely a hidden gem wedding venue of Perth . From the moment we walked onto the property we just knew it was our perfect wedding venue ! And our family and friends still can't stop raving about it also .

We can't thank Tracey and the rest of the Yoothamurra team enough for looking after us every step of the way . Every communication was friendly , personable , professional and answered efficiently. There was never a doubt if we were in good hands .

As a bride , the added bonus of being able to stay at the property the night before the wedding was another advantage of not having to worry about travel to the venue and getting to see the set up as it happened. The house has a beautiful homey feel with a touch of luxury and plenty of room for family and friends to stay with you also to extend the celebrations over the weekend.

Words just can't describe it , it's truly magical and you have to see it to believe it .
